29. - 31. soruları aşağıdaki parçaya göre cevaplayınız.

Colonialism and imperialism are historical phenomena characterized by the extension of power and influence of powerful nations over other territories. Although they are often used interchangeably, they each have unique characteristics. Colonialism involves the establishment of formal colonies, where the colonial power exercises political, economic, and cultural control over the subordinate regions. It often leads to economic exploitation, cultural assimilation, and the imposition of the colonizer's norms. The British colonization of India and the French colonization of Algeria are among the notable examples. Imperialism, on the other hand, is a broader concept encompassing various methods of extending influence, including territorial acquisition, economic dominance, and political manipulation. This influence may be exerted through direct territorial acquisition or indirect methods like economic or political dominance. Economic imperialism, for instance, allows powerful nations to control other regions without direct territorial occupation. Both colonialism and imperialism have shaped global history, leaving enduring legacies on affected regions and influencing the geopolitical dynamics of the modern world.

29. It is clearly stated in the passage that colonialism and imperialism ----.

- A) have hardly had any effect on today's world's geopolitical dynamics
- B) have distinct features that separate them from each other
- C) are frequently applied by weak nations over powerful ones
- D) can sometimes be used to refer to different thing although they actually mean the same
- E) are indistinguishable in that they both require the occupation of another country

30. It can be understood from the passage that the French ----.

- A) and the British were in competition to colonize Algeria
- B) avoided exercising political control over its former colony, Algeria
- C) colonization of India is a remarkable example of imperialism
- D) exerted economic and cultural control over Algeria
- E) utilized various methods to become the most powerful nation in Europe

31. It is clear from the passage that ----.

- A) both colonialism and imperialism have had a great impact upon the geopolitical dynamics of the world today
- B) Britain and France managed to take Algeria and India under control respectively thanks to economic imperialism
- C) nations formally colonizing subordinate regions refrain from controlling the territories of these colonies
- D) imperialism used to be a more common phenomenon than formal colonialism, but this is not the case any more
- E) after the British colonized India, the French responded by colonizing Algeria because they were fierce rivals

44. Fernandez:

- Hey, Derrick, have you ever heard of dropshipping? It's an e-commerce business model, isn't it?

Derrick:

- That's right. It's where you sell products without having to keep them in stock. Instead, the supplier ships the products directly to the customer.

Fernandez:

- ----

Derrick:

- Exactly. It's a low-risk way to start an online business since you don't need to invest in inventory upfront.

- A) Do you mind if I ask you when and how you first became interested in dropshipping?
- B) But what kind of benefits would that bring to the customer over conventional shopping?
- C) Well, do you mean that I need a huge warehouse where I will store the goods I will trade?
- D) Ah, so you essentially act as a middleman between the supplier and the customer.
- E) To be honest, I don't understand how one can be tempted to invest in such a risky business model.

45. Suzie:

- Have you been following the recent discussions about animal rights?

Nancy:

- Yes, I have. It's such an important topic, isn't it? Animals deserve to be treated ethically and with compassion.

Suzie:

- ----

Nancy:

- Definitely. That's why it's crucial to advocate for stronger animal welfare laws and regulations.

- A) But don't you also think that we should be more interested in human rights, especially women rights?
- B) In fact, much research must be done to have an idea about the origins of extinct languages.
- C) You're right. Some animals can smell chemical signals that indicate a person is fearful.
- D) As a matter of fact, domestic animals often seek and enjoy interacting with humans.
- E) I couldn't agree more. It's heart-breaking to see cases of animal cruelty and exploitation.

- A) Millions of people who have hearing loss have already benefitted from the new method recently found by scientists, which repairs the cells deep inside the ear.
- B) Because it has the potential to assist in millions of people with hearing loss, the novel method scientists have discovered recently to repair cells deep inside the ear is a positive development.
- C) One of the remarkable developments that has aided millions of people with hearing loss is the new method recently discovered by scientists, which can restore the cells deep inside the ear.
- D) Scientists have long been striving to discover a way to repair the cells deep inside the ear, and if they can, it will be a notable development which can help millions of people with hearing loss.
- E) Using the recently discovered ground-breaking method, scientists can restore cells deep inside the ear, which is a noteworthy development as it has eradicated the problem of hearing loss worldwide.

51. No matter what type of diet or fitness program you choose, you need to eat fewer calories than you burn off to lose weight.

- A) Even if the amount of food you consume is less than you burn off, you cannot avoid gaining weight if you do not combine it with a diet or fitness program.
- B) The type of the diet or fitness program you follow determines whether you will lose or gain weight rather than how many calories you eat or burn off.
- C) You are unlikely to lose weight unless you choose a diet or fitness program that dictates you to eat fewer calories than you burn off.
- D) If you want to lose weight, not only the calories you consume must be fewer than those you burn off but you should also follow a diet or fitness program.
- E) Irrespective of the diet or fitness program you choose, it is necessary for you not to get more calories than you burn off in order to lose weight.

52. Global warming could be interacting with regional rainfall and deforestation to accelerate forest loss in the Amazon, pushing it towards partial or total collapse.

- A) The forest loss in the Amazon is gaining speed possibly due to the interaction between global warming and rainfall and deforestation, which is bringing it to the verge of a partial or total collapse.
- B) The forest loss in the Amazon has reached unprecedented levels as global warming has led to regional rainfall and deforestation, which has caused the collapse of the Amazon.
- C) The total collapse of the Amazon could in part be due to global warming, which has speeded up the forest loss in the region as a result of heavy rainfall and deforestation.
- D) Rather than regional rainfall or deforestation, it is due to global warming that the forest loss in the Amazon has reached record highs and has paved the way for the collapse of the Amazon.
- E) By supressing regional rainfall, global warming could be leading to deforestation, speeding up forest loss in the Amazon, and pushing it towards partial or total decline.
